DEFENSE COMMISSARY AGENCY

1300 E Avenue, Fort Lee, Virginia 23801-1800

Clyde W. Reynolds Director of Engineering

Clyde W. Reynolds is director of engineering for the Defense Commissary Agency, headquartered at Fort Lee, Va. DeCA's engineering element is located on Lackland Air Force Base, Joint Base San Antonio. He is responsible for the planning, programming, design, construction, maintenance and repair of commissary facilities worldwide.

Before coming to DeCA, Mr. Reynolds served from 2012 to 2014 as the chief of the San Antonio Office for the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. There, he supervised a mission that provided headquarters strategic-level engagement and support to various headquarters elements located at Joint Base San Antonio.

From 2009 to 2012, Mr. Reynolds served as engineer advisor for the U.S. Army Mission & Installation Contracting Command (MICC) at Fort Sam Houston, Joint Base San Antonio. There, he provided technical engineering expertise and guidance on a variety of Army command-wide and installation-specific utilities, and energy-related privatization and acquisition issues.

While assigned to the MICC, Mr. Reynolds was also detailed to developmental assignments in the Assistant Secretary of the Army for Acquisition, Logistics, and Technology (ASA-ALT) and the Assistant Secretary of the Army for Installations, Energy, and the Environment (ASA-IE&E). From October 2011 to January 2012, he served as an acquisition subject matter expert on the Energy Initiatives Task Force. There, he helped develop the acquisition components of the Large-Scale Renewable Energy Project Guide, which accelerated one gigawatt of renewable energy projects for the Army.

During another developmental assignment with the Army from July 2011 to October 2011, Mr. Reynolds assisted with the standup of the new Deputy Assistant Secretary of the Army - Services (DASA-S) office to oversee acquisition services Army wide. This effort saved $2.5 billion annually by streamlining and optimizing Army acquisition services.

Mr. Reynolds' government career began in 1986 as a civil engineer for the Directorate of Public Works at Fort Hood, Texas. For the next 13 years, he would serve in various engineering assignments of increasing responsibility. In 1999, Mr. Reynolds led a team that developed several measures to save or avoid spending more than $4 million annually in managing solid waste on Fort Hood. These efforts earned Reynolds and his team Vice President Al Gore's Hammer Award for that year.
